

Name _____
Wednesday, March 9

Let Me Demonstrate

Questions

1. What is the purpose of a demonstrative speech?

2. To "demonstrate" means to show _____, explain, or illustrate.

3. The author gives some examples of tasks that could be demonstrated. Which is NOT given?

- A. making a paper airplane
- B. learning how to float
- C. baking cookies
- D. learning a task on the computer

4. What should you do after you have written down steps?

5. It is a good idea to have someone review your written speech and try to follow the steps.

- A. True
- B. False

6. The author states that much of communication is non-verbal. Name another element from which people learn something.

7. What humorous example does the author give about people not understanding a step? (Hint: it involves computers.)

8. What is the last suggestion the author makes?
